

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CONVERSE WITH GOD,

EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR;

SELECTED FROM HOLY SCRIPTURE.

Draw nigh unto God, and He will draw nigh to you.—JAMES iv. 8.

PREFACE.

THE sincere and humble Christian, to whom the free salvation of the Gospel hath become the one thing needful, finds unspeakable comfort amidst the trials of the divine life, and also strength to fulfil its duties, from the privilege of having fellowship with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. NOW PRAYER, and THE HOLY SCRIPTURES, are the two principal methods by which this precious intercourse is maintained. In prayer, the desire of the heart is poured forth to Him who is able to supply all its need, according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus. In reading the Bible, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort speaks to His children, and lays before them those exceeding great and precious promises which were given them, that they might be partakers of the divine nature.

But what words can a Christian more fitly use in prayer, than those with which the Holy Ghost taught the saints of elder days to lift up their hearts to the throne of grace? And what answers can be more anxiously desired, than those which have been already made to the children of God, for their furtherance and joy of faith?

Such prayers and answers are embodied in the following little manual. Its design is by no means original. Anxious to search the Scriptures, and to commune with that God who heareth prayer, the Compiler found delight in observing the beautiful harmony between the desire of a soul hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and the assurances of God that it should be filled. The consolation thus graciously afforded to the Compiler's mind, may possibly be communicated to others from the same source, when they have learned in any degree that they are poor, and miserable, and blind, and lame, and naked ; and when they have begun, however feebly, to learn that all the springs of mercy are in Christ.

This offering of two mites to the treasury of God, would probably have been made with more hesitation, were it not intended, if possible, to minister some aid, however small, to the diffusion of that Gospel which is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth.

No liberty has been taken with the Scriptures, except to change, in a very few instances, the prayers of the great Apostle into petitions directly made by awakened spirits pleading for mercy with God, and pleading alike in the language of inspiration and of a blessed Christian experience enjoyed by St. Paul.

May the Great High Priest of the Church bless this little work to His own glory, and to the spiritual comfort of those into whose hands it may fall, and who may be seeking the salvation which shall be imparted to all that truly come unto God by Him !

At the request of the Compiler, I have looked over the following selection ; and think the connection between prayer and promise which it exhibits may be usefully employed in assisting the daily meditation of Christians, and in directing them with increasing earnestness to the lively oracles of God.

JANUARY.

1. I Beseech thee, show me thy glory.
(Ex. xxxiii. 18.)

Said I not unto thee, that if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God ? (John xi. 40.)

2. Now, therefore, I pray thee, if I have found grace in thy sight, show me now thy way, that I may know thee ; that I may find grace in thy sight. (Exod. xxxiii. 13.)

I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight. (Ex. xxxiii. 12.)

3. If thy presence go not with me carry us not up hence. (Ex. xxxiii. 15.)

My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest. (Ex. xxxiii. 14.)

4. Then called I upon the name of the Lord ; O Lord, I beseech thee deliver my soul. (Ps. cxvi. 4.)

The name of the Lord is a strong tower ; the righteous runneth into it and is safe. (Prov. xviii. 10.)

5. Return unto thy rest, O my soul ; for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee. (Ps. cxvi. 7.)

Thus saith the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel ; In returning and rest shall ye be saved ; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength. (Isa. xxx. 15.)

6. Shew me a token for good. (Ps. lxxxvi. 17.)

The hand of our God is upon all them for good that seek him. (Ezra viii. 22.)

7. O Lord, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name's sake :

for our backslidings are many ; we have sinned against thee. (Jer. xiv. 7.)

I will heal their backslidings, I will love them freely ; for mine anger is turned away.
(Hos. xiv. 4.)

8. For thy name's sake, O Lord, pardon mine iniquity ; for it is great. (Ps.
xxv. 11.)

If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (1 John
i. 8, 9.)

9. For this thing I besought the Lord thrice that it might depart from me. (2 Cor. xii. 8.)

And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee ; for my strength is made perfect in weakness. (2 Cor. xii. 9.)

also in him, and he shall bring it to pass.
(Ps. xxxvii. 5.)

20. Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean ; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow. (Ps. li. 7.)

Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord ; though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow ;

though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. (Isa. i. 18.)

21. Cause me to hear thy loving-kindness in the morning, for in thee do I trust ;
cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, for I lift up my soul unto thee. (Psalm cxliii. 8.)

Thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left. (Isa. xxx. 21.)

quicken thou me, according unto thy word.
(Ps. cxix. 25.)

It is the Spirit that quickeneth ; the flesh profiteth nothing : the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life. (John vi. 63.)
